Yann Schilling has been appointed Director of SERVAIR Solutions.

Paris, 18 February 2011 - Servair, the leading French air transport catering and logistics company, ranked third internationally, is pleased to announce the appointment of Yann Schilling as Director of Servair Solutions.

Yann Schilling is taking charge of Servair Solutions, the Group subsidiary responsible for the upstream integration of catering services. Servair Solutions uses the expertise it has in management, catering, negotiation and training to assist airlines and so enable them to concentrate on their core business.

Yann Schilling began his career with Servair in 2001. A fieldworker, he acquired his wealth of international experience from working in International Sales Divisions and then as Assistant Director of International Development at Servair.

From 1988 to 2001, he held the position of Managing Director of two SMEs in the agri-food sector (Pourshins and Galyon) and was Sales Director, France and Europe, for DMG, a specialised wholesale food company.

This appointment is part of a strategic project initiated by Patrick Alexandre, CEO of Servair, in partnership with its management team, to support the expansion of Servair, strengthen its areas for development and provide the company with all the necessary means to meet new challenges in terms of diversifying the range of services it offers and capturing new markets.

SERVAIR is the leading French airline catering and cleaning company. In 3rd position worldwide with more than 60 sites, with its partners and subsidiaries, SERVAIR offers airlines a range of services that are vital to the air transport sector and for the comfort of passengers. Its requirements, in terms of quality and know-how, have led to SERVAIR becoming a true driving force for its 120 customer companies, helping them to improve their commercial offers to passengers, while scrupulously adhering to the constraints of air transport.
