Roissy, April 16, 2008

Start of the new catering unit Newrest Servair LCY

Since March 31st 2008, Servair and Newrest have started operating a catering unit at London City airport. Of a surface area of 900 square meters and equipped with a hot kitchen, this unit named Newrest Servair LCY has a capacity of 4 000 meals per day. The unit currently serves 30 daily flights for Air France. The unit will also start in a near future a VIP activity for executive jets, private aviation and functions. Managed by Pierre Martens from Newrest, the unit employs 20 people.

The capital of Newrest Servair LCY is held at 20% by the English handling company Airport Logistics Limited while Servair and Newrest hold, with equal shares within a consortium, the remaining 80%.

In the heart of London, the London City airport mostly welcomes business travelers. In 2007, over 2.9 million passengers passed through the airport. This joint catering operation is, for Servair and Newrest, an opportunity to provide both their expertise on a very specific activity.
